EATING:
The second most enjoyed activity of IMBA students. Join us this Wednesday for the annual IMBA Cultural Potluck. This is the perfect opportunity to prepare and share a dish from your culture or just one that you love (yes, Bojangles IS acceptable). If you are culinarily-challenged or just plain lazy, please bring $5!

Newsletter & IMBA Happenings

October brings lots of exciting activities such as the Annual Cultural Potluck, more USC Football, and enjoying the outdoors without morphing into a sweaty beast.

On October 23rd, there will be a service day to assist those with multiple sclerosis. For people living with MS, having help with chores such as changing light bulbs, painting, or yard work means so much! It’s not a game day, so it’s the perfect opportunity to help out your community. For more information, email Erin Hope.

Also in the works is the IMBA Program’s annual celebration of Diwali, the Festival of Lights. We are planning the dinner and dancing extravaganza for the evening of Thursday, November 4th. Both girls and guys are needed for dancing, so if you want to learn some moves (Dougie not included), hit up Michelle Cohen.

No scheduled Happy Hour this week. This does not mean you cannot be jubilant, gay, or joyous on your own; we’re just not organizing it.

T-Shirt Contest

Every year, one amazingly talented classmate of ours designs a t-shirt for the IMBA program. So whether you want to show off your Photoshop prowess or simply avoid schoolwork for a couple hours, start designing. Entries close October 18.
