Welcome to November (aka 1.5 months until winter break). There are still a lot of things to fill your proverbial plate before you inevitably gorge yourself on the meal of the year and remain immobile while watching football.

There are many guest speakers visiting campus this month including Candy Mielke of LinkedIn. She will be participating in the MAGW Symposium on November 17th in the Moore School.

Check out the calendar for upcoming community service activities. To participate in the above events, contact tina.robbins@imba.moore.sc.edu.

Additionally, we’ll be having a canned food drive where FOOD=MASSAGE. Intrigued? Of course you are. Stay tuned.

Need some autumn-appropriate attire? The newly designed program shirts (long sleeve!) will be rolling out here shortly. But continue with normal laundry for now.
