Newsletter & IMBA Happenings

It's here. December is finally here. This means Holiday Gala Extravaganza, Habitat for Humanity (still a few spots left-tina.robbins@imba.moore.sc.edu), and of course a well-deserved hiatus from studies. With that, please enjoy the following:

‘Twas the weeks before break, when all through the school, not a student was resting, not one tired fool; the papers were progressing, written with care, in hopes that for once, the GPA would be spared; the students were nestled all snug in the Grad Lounge, hoping one last bit of motivation could be scrounged; and the girls in their frocks and the boys in their suits, all went to the Holiday Party with wine and food and dancing to boot;

As the semester ends and rolls out of sight, happy vacation to all and to all a good night! Travel safely and enjoy your time off!
